

KHYENTSE-PRITZKER SCHOLARSHIPS
IN TIBETAN AND HIMALAYAN STUDIES
(January and March application deadlines)

Wolfson College

Wolfson College is offering two Khyentse-Pritzker scholarships for Master's students in Tibetan and Himalayan Studies. These are partial scholarships at the value of £5,000 each.

Recipients of the scholarship will be based at, and become a member of, Wolfson College. The award will be for the duration of one academic year in the first instance, but it may be possible to re-apply in the following year.

The funding for this scholarship has been made available thanks to the generosity of the Margot and Tom Pritzker Art Collaborative and the Khyentse Foundation. We are profoundly grateful to both benefactors for their support.

- Eligibility

The Khyentse-Pritzker scholarship is available to all Master's students (MPhil and MSt) in the field of Tibetan and Himalayan Studies. The award may be held in conjunction with other partial scholarships, but the total value of your scholarships may not exceed full Course Fees and the UKRI National Minimum Doctoral Stipend.

The scholarship is awarded on the basis of academic achievements and potential. It is open to both Home/ROI and Overseas students and will be tenable for one year at a time.

- Application process

MSt and MPhil applicants for entry in October 2024 will be automatically considered and there is no need to submit a separate application form for this scholarship. The successful candidates will be notified soon after the March application deadline has passed.

For further funding opportunities in Tibetan and Himalayan Studies, please turn to page 2 of this document.

More information

For further details or questions regarding these scholarships please contact the Academic Registrar (academic.registrar@wolfson.ox.ac.uk).

OTHER SOURCES OF FUNDING IN TIBETAN AND HIMALAYAN STUDIES

Events: The Tibetan and Himalayan Studies Centre at Wolfson offers grants of up to £500 towards the costs of academic or cultural events in Tibetan and Himalayan Studies held at Wolfson College.

Language study: MPhil students of Tibetan and Himalayan Studies attending a Tibetan language summer school are eligible for grants of up to £500 from the Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies. See <https://resources.orinst.ox.ac.uk/scholarships>

Conference attendance and fieldwork: DPhil students in Tibetan Studies may apply to the Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies for up to £600 towards the costs of conference attendance and/or fieldwork relevant to their doctoral research. See <https://resources.orinst.ox.ac.uk/scholarships>

The Frederick Williamson Memorial Fund based in Cambridge supports study and research in Tibetan and Himalayan Studies. They have in the past given travel grants for fieldwork and conferences and occasionally provided partial scholarships. See <https://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/reporter/2005-06/special/06/39.html>

Financial hardship: Master's and DPhil students in Tibetan and Himalayan Studies experiencing unexpected financial hardship may be able to apply for a modest hardship grant at any time during the academic year. If you are experiencing unexpected financial problems, please speak to your course coordinator or supervisor (Professor Ulrike Roesler) or to the Head of the Tibetan and Himalayan Studies Centre (Dr Lama Jabb) who will be able to provide further details.